When we slow down to truly appreciate the Advent season, it can be transformative.

While the commercial world celebrates Christmas from October through December, Catholics and many Christians recognize Advent as an important liturgical season—one that begins on Dec. 3 in 2023.

We can't just fast-forward from Thanksgiving to Christmas morning!

Advent is not just a passive waiting; it's a liturgical season highlighted by unique traditions.

Just as the Mass during Advent features the custom of candle lighting, Catholics all over the world have embraced special activities and traditions outside of the liturgy to embrace this season of waiting.

Hallow explores a variety of Advent activities, customs and traditions you can consider to enrich your Advent in 2023.

Attend Mass on a Weekday-Many Catholics add a weekday Mass to their routines during Advent. Daily Mass can allow us to experience the liturgy in a new way, breaking from the normal Sunday routine. You arrive at church on a different day, likely at a different time, and perhaps with a different group of parishioners. You might even decide to sit in a different pew or section of the church. Perhaps you can take note of the art around your parish that you might overlook on a busier Sunday liturgy or listen more attentively to the readings. These small changes can help you see and experience the Mass in a new way. Even attending one Mass weekday Mass can greatly enhance your Advent. And it's a great activity to do by oneself—or bring a friend with.

Advent Activities for Adults and those without Families-Leading up to Christmas, so many activities are geared towards families, particularly those with children. For those without children or with complicated family dynamics, the holidays can be especially challenging. In addition to attending Mass during the week, there are many ways to participate in Advent without family or children. Being more deliberate about spending time outside—and enjoying the beauty of nature and God's creation. Picking up a new prayer devotional can be a nice way to spend time with God and yourself. You could also read a book: Loyola Press has a number of suggestions for Advent. Celebrating Advent separate from family or children does not mean you need to be at home by yourself. In fact, one of the best ways you can draw closer to God during Advent is to devote time to those who need it most.

Volunteering During Advent-Spending time to service to others in Advent almost takes on a special meaning: Awaiting the coming of Jesus by seeing His face in those around us in need. Traditional organizations that welcome volunteers, like soup kitchens, food pantries, and shelters for those battling homelessness, can be especially busy in the winter months as the weather cools. The need for help can be great, but the supply of volunteers can also spike around Thanksgiving and heading into December. As you explore volunteer opportunities, consider committing to help into the New Year, when the time and resources of other volunteers can dwindle. Of course, there are many other places to lend your help. The Catholic Volunteer Network lists a wide variety of options. You might find an opportunity more perfectly tailored to your talents than you could have imagined.

Advent Candles and Advent Wreaths- Perhaps the most popular Advent tradition is the advent wreath, often containing Advent candles. During Sundays in Advent, a candle is lit on a wreath to symbolize our journey through Advent as we await Jesus. Simple Advent wreaths with candle holder for Advent candles are beautiful additions to homes. Most importantly, their powerful symbolism aid us in our days awaiting Jesus.

Understanding today's feast of Christ the King may be particularly challenging. While most of us do not have direct experience with kings or royalty, we have a sense of who they are. We know that royalty have sovereignty over their kingdoms. We know that those who are subjects to royalty offer them allegiance and honor. To understand how Christ is our king, we extend and magnify what we know to be true of the best of human royalty. Christ's kingship extends to all places, all people, and all times. Christ manifests his kingship through his death on the cross in which he offered salvation to everyone. Those who can see with eyes of faith recognize Jesus to be our heavenly king. As you gather as a family, recall that this Sunday is the last Sunday in the Church year and on this Sunday we celebrate the feast of Christ the King. Talk together about what it means to be a king or queen. How do those who are subjects behave toward royalty? Read today's Gospel, John 18:33b-37. Ask your family to discuss these questions: Does Pilate treat Jesus like royalty? What does Jesus say about his kingdom? Talk about how your family shows honor and obedience to Christ our King. Pray together the Lord's Prayer and ask God to help your family act in ways that show you recognize and honor Christ as King.

Breaking Open the Word

Reflecting on next Sunday's Gospel before you come to Mass can bring so much more meaning to your experience of the Liturgy. Here's the Gospel for next Sunday. How does this Gospel touch your life?

December 3, 2023

First Sunday of Advent

Mk 13:33-37

Jesus said to his disciples:

“Be watchful! Be alert! You do not know when the time will come. It is like a man traveling abroad.

He leaves home and places his servants in charge, each with his own work, and orders the gatekeeper to be on the watch. Watch, therefore; you do not know when the lord of the house is coming, whether in the evening, or at midnight, or at cockcrow, or in the morning.

May he not come suddenly and find you sleeping.

What I say to you, I say to all: ‘Watch!’”

Reflection Questions

- In this Gospel, Jesus is responding to a question from his disciples about how they will know when the Son of Man, Jesus, will return in glory. What does Jesus tell them about when this will happen?
- What instruction does Jesus give His disciples about how they should live as a result of not knowing exactly when He'll return?
- In what ways can unbelief creep in and undermine how attentive we are in waiting and watching for Jesus to return?
- During Advent, we do more than just prepare ourselves to celebrate the birth of Christ. The Church also wants us to remember that we must keep ourselves ready to receive Christ when he comes to us in our daily lives and at the end of time. Like the disciples, Jesus wants us to be watchful and alert so that we might recognize the signs of Christ in our midst. What are some things that you can do to keep yourself ready to receive Christ?
